

A personal guide that can update the plan

The assistant receives the current situation, answers in context and proposes profile changes only with user confirmation.

Safety by design

No API key in the browser. No silent profile edits. The assistant acts as a guide, with the user in control.

Answers grounded in official sources

Before the model answers, Borderless retrieves relevant government guidance and passes it into the prompt as context.

Why it matters

The model does not rely on general legal knowledge alone. It works from current, official guidance that users can open and check.
